JUDGMENT (Per Sri B.Prakash Rao, J)

Heard both sides and at their request, the main appeal itself is taken up for disposal.

This appeal is sought to be filed as against the interlocutory orders passed by the learned single Judge, pending writ petition.

It is represented by the counsel appearing on either side that in the similar circumstances and as against similar such orders passed by the learned single Judge, the appeal filed has already been dismissed in W.A.No.2183 of 2005.

Following the same and having regard to the fact that the order under appeal is interlocutory and also discretionary in its nature, we do not find any warrant to interfere with the order.

Accordingly, the writ appeal is dismissed. Office to post the writ petition itself for final hearing before the regular Court hearing the matters immediately after Pongal Vacations, 2006. No costs.
